Secretary of the Navy Daniels transmitted to the Senate the complete report relative to the charges made by Fred D. Bost, concerning the alleged shooting of unarmed Mexicans by American marines near Vera Cruz.

The Senate authorized the President to send delegates from the United States to the International Congress on Social Insurance to be held in Paris next month. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, occasioned considerable amusement by suggesting that the delegates would have to be sent "by wireless" on account of the lack of an American merchant marine.

The coining of a large number of gold and silver pieces to be commemorative of the Panama-Pacific Exposition was authorized by the Senate. About $3,000,000 will be coined in ten dollar, five dollar, two dollar-and-a-half and one dollar gold pieces and in fifty cent silver pieces.

CARBAJAL'S ENVOYS AT POST.
 Advice reached the State Department yesterday that the delegates of President Carbal, appointed to arrange with Gen. Carranza for the transfer of the Mexican government to the Constitutionalists, had arrived at Saltillo.

VIRGINIANS PROTEST MT. VERNON HIGHWAY

Property Owners of Rosemont, Braddock, and Mount Ida Oppose Proposed Route.

MAY EMPLOY LEGAL COUNSEL

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 3.—At a mass meeting of Alexandria County property owners of the subdivisions of Rosemont, Braddock and Mount Ida tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce protest was made against the route of the proposed Mount Vernon highway boulevard from Arlington National Cemetery to Alexandria. The boulevard will cost $100,000.

Residents of these places want the route over the old Russell road entering at the head of King street instead of through the town of Potomac, comprising Del Ray and St. Elmo.

A committee of ten was named to see Logan W. Page, United States Commissioner of Roads, and urge the route proposed by them to be adopted. They will do so Wednesday morning and present a petition signed by many property owners of these places.

On motion of E. H. Kemper it was also decided to employ legal counsel for the purpose of ascertaining what steps be taken to stop the building of the road. It was explained by Mr. Kemper that he is not opposed to road improvements, but that he desired to see the money expended where the most good would be accomplished. Should it be stopped, he explained, a route would be determined upon afterward.

All present volunteered to pay their pro rata of the cost expense incident to any litigation that may be incurred. G. Washington Lewis, who presided at the meeting, named the following committee to see Mr. Page: C. A. Strauss, R. D. Wolf, M. Niven, J. S. Groves, W. G. Swan, E. H. Kemper, Robert Elliott, Alexander Suter, H. J. Warshaw, and Wallace Lindsey. Mr. Lindsey acted as secretary of the meeting.

Funeral services for City Councilman Frank C. Smith were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at his home, 148 Duke street, Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, officiating. Delegations of Masons, Elks, and members of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company, the latter acting as escort to the body, attended. Several members of the city council also attended.

Services at the grave were conducted by the Elks and Masons. Robert Wenzel sang for the Elks "Face to Face." The following were the pallbearers: F. F. Marbury, George H. Robinson, George E. Butler, J. Edward Shinn, Jacob Brill, and James W. Bales.

There is no danger of any financial stringency in the local money market as a result of the European conflict, according to statements made by several bankers here today. They also reported there will hardly be any need for emergency currency, pointing to the fact that such was not needed here during the panic of 1907.

The Holy Name Band tonight gave a concert at the children's playground at Washington public school building.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lola Pittman Ashton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace D. Ashton, and Thomas K. Franklin, the latter of Washington, which took place Saturday in Washington at Epiphany Chapel. Rev. Charles Edwards officiated.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, today conducted the funeral services for Antoinette Virginia Ervin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Moxley Ervin, held at the home of H. W. Wildt, George Washington Park.

"CLUB WITHOUT LIQUOR IS NO CLUB AT ALL"

"Success of Lord Baltimore Country Club in Procuring License Gratifying," Bartholdt Writes.

RAPS ANTI-SALOON CHAIRMAN

Representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, one of the members of the House who received the protest of the citizens of Riverdale, Md., against the sale of liquor at the Lord Baltimore Country Club, has written a spirited reply to Clifton J. Hicks, chairman of the anti-saloon committee. In this reply Mr. Bartholdt says:

"Replying to yours of the 23d inst., will say that the success of the Lord Baltimore Country Club in procuring a license to sell liquor is a matter of satisfaction to me. A club without such privilege is no club at all, and no gentleman with the instincts of manhood in him should belong to it.

"If an American gentleman cannot be trusted in a trivial matter of this kind, but must be cautioned and gagged by law, he certainly cannot be trusted with the franchise or anything else. It is time that American manhood assert itself against attempts of misguided moralists to abuse their political liberty for the purpose of suppressing the individual liberty of others."

The Lord Baltimore Country Club which occupies the famous old Calvert mansion at Riverdale, is composed largely of members of the House and Senate, and is one of the exclusive social organizations of the National Capital.

ON THE GREAT WHITE WAY.

By G. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 3.—Joe Choyinski, the old-time California fighting machine, is spending up and down Our Great Solid Way these humid days observing the changes that have been wrought in that time. The other evening Choyinski, who is now the physical director of the Pittsburgh Athletic Club, was reminiscing with Charlie Liebskind, his former manager. Choyinski related an amusing incident with Jim Hall, an Australian fighter. Choyinski had knocked him out in the first fight in a bloody go of thirteen rounds. The second time they were matched at Louisville and in the fourth round Choyinski let go an all-wool-and-yard-wide wallop that sent Hall to his knees. While the referee was counting Choyinski walked around behind him and whispered: "If you get up you bloody Englishman I am going to break your neck." Whether or not Hall heard him may never be known, but he shot out from under him and he fell for the count like a load of lead.

There are some who say our noble cops are not even human although they move and breathe just as naturally as regular folks. There are others who say they may be human but they have no hearts. The best way to learn anything is by experience and Commissioner of Charles E. Hughes has turned a neat and clever little trick. He delegated a representative to dress up as a penniless willing-to-work-outcast and to make a tour of the city to find out for him. Of the fifty policemen the investigator approached at random only three gave him advice of no value. The others directed him to a refuge where he could find a bed and possibly work, some gave him money for carfare and food, while one treated him to a $1.50 meal and almost got a job for him. All of them were kindly even though one or two were a trifle gruff. Even the doubting Thomases will now believe the New York policeman has a heart.

Paderewski, the pianist, recently met Larry Waterbury, great polo champion, in Europe. The introduction was made by a friend of both who said: "You are both leaders of your separate professions, though they are, of course, very different."

"Not so different," quickly responded the great pianist. "My new friend is a dear soul who plays polo, whereas I am a dear Pole who plays solo." A new record for catch-as-catch-can reported!

William Allen White, the celebrated Emporia, Kans., editor, was much interested in a scientific note he encountered in a New York paper which he recently read. The article said that if the earth were flattened the sea would be two miles deep all over the world.

Editor White thought that over a long while, but it was not until he got back to Kansas that he published the following editorial:

"If any man has caught flattening the earth, shoot him on the spot. There's a whole lot of us in this State that can't swim."

Beginning seems always to be profitable in New York. Every week or so a rich beggar bobs up in some of the courts, last week an old, gray-haired and crippled woman begged piteously for alms in front of the Flatiron Building. A detective picked her up and took her to the police station. She was Helen Monahan, aged seventy-six. When the matron attempted to search her she fought until the services of several policemen were required. A bank book showing a deposit of $229 in two months' time and $30 in cash were found on her. The business depression—whether real or imaginary—has resulted in more beggary than usual on the streets. Many of them are old-timers and, despite the warnings given through newspapers that great harm is done by giving them money on the streets, they always make a good living. One newspaper recently unearthed a beggar's trust over in Brooklyn.

FRENCHMAN TRIES TO INFECT WELLS, IS SHOT

London, England, Aug. 3.—The German embassy was notified by Berlin today that a large party of Frenchmen wearing Prussian uniforms tried to cross the German frontier in automobiles, but all were detected and captured. A party of Frenchmen, including a doctor, attempted to infect the wells near Metz with cholera bacilli, but they, too, were detected. The doctor was court martialed and shot.

Clarence Donahue reported to the police yesterday that a cash box containing $245 was stolen from his office, at 314 Pennsylvania avenue southeast.

Margaret Gaudaw, fourteen years old, of 1492 Kramer street northwest, was bitten on the hand yesterday by a dog. The dog was sent to the pound. She was treated at Casualty Hospital.

Dr. Maurice Francis Egan will sail for his post in Denmark on or about August 10, on the American-Scandinavian liner Frederik VIII. He is now recuperating from a recent illness.

Emma Catena, of 1130 Maryland avenue northeast, reported to the police yesterday that a cash drawer containing $11 in change was stolen from his store.

Henry C. Hunterman, fifty-seven years old, 1214 G street northwest, was arrested yesterday on a charge of cruelty to animals, by Policeman J. L. Thompson, of the Second precinct. He was held on $5 collateral.

Sidney Blahoff, twenty-five years old, of 3149 Mount Pleasant street northwest, was arrested yesterday on a charge of fast automobile driving by Policeman F. S. Heulla, of the Second precinct. He put up $5 collateral.

Fire last night did $200 damage to a tool shed on a vacant lot at 421 Irving street northwest. Damage amounting to $25 was done at 2922 M street northwest yesterday afternoon when a fence caught fire.

Earl Perry, colored, nineteen years old, was arrested yesterday on a charge of fast automobile driving by Policeman Charles Bartman, of the Ninth precinct. Perry took the automobile from an employee of the Navy Yard for a "joy ride."
